Pixton Unsolved: True Crime (teaser)

Coming soon...

The cases covered in this series are for educational and historical purposes only to show how much more interesting Pixton is than some people think..

Episode 1
coming in April or May.

The Unsolved Case of H3LPY0U

On August 15, 2019 a user by the name of H3LPYOU joined Pixton.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

H3LPYOU called out LGBTQ+ authors and authors with LGBTQ+ characters out and harrassed them in his comic.

This caused him to eventually get banned by Pixton themselves.

Although he got banned, he still left a mark on the friendly community.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

His avatar looks like my sleep paralysis demon.

Is he homophobic too?

...

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

But that brings us to who could H3LPYOU even be?

From what we know, they're definetely not gay.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

Which is kind of obvious.

Since they called some LGBTQ+ authors "disgusting pieces of filth" and "they can't decide their gender that they were born with."

What is your opinion on the matter?

Well.. This guy seems like he had an idea on what he was gonna do but his brain couldnt function after the first word so he half $@#'ed the rest.

Yeah, he seems like he couldn't decide what to put to make the comic longer.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

He was just winging it, he ate some glue and watched a Trump rally, then wrote down everything that made sense to him.

"Those homosexuals sound like lobotomites! I should make a comic to show my opinion nobody wants to hear!"

"They cant know who I am so the best thing to do is make my avatar pitch black!"

"I'll say I'm the only one with the guts to say anything, even though I'll say it on a throwaway!"

"I better insult everyone here and then say Im the smartest!"

But it's weird knowing they could still very well be on Pixton. Just staying silent.

I doubt it, he might just said that to make sure people are scared of him or some answer like that.. "Im always watching you! But we dont count the times that Im banned and by the times I mean all the time."

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

They were also claiming to be from the UK, but on their follower map it says they're from...

The most scariest place of all...

Whatever this is.

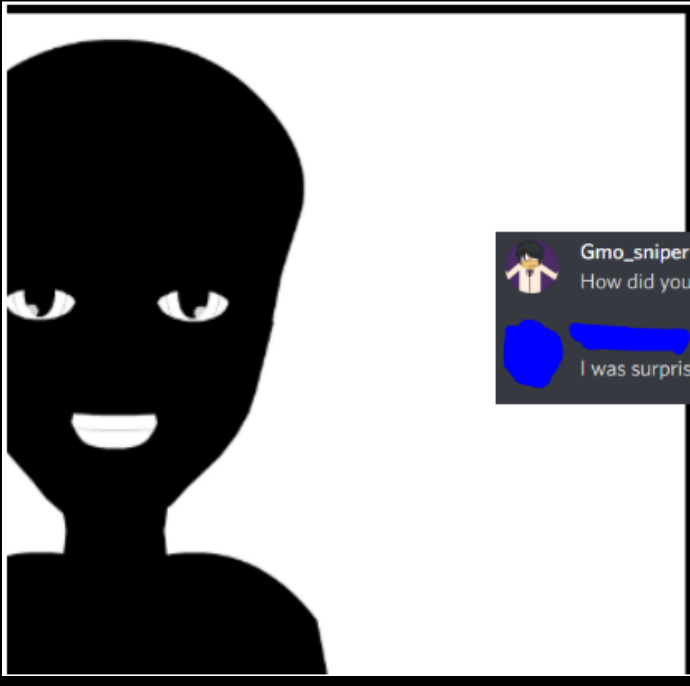
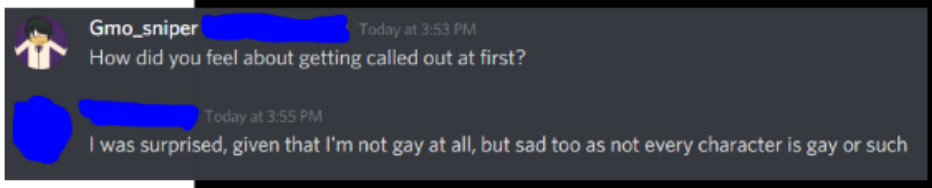
And fortunately, we have managed to secure an interview with an anonymous person who was mentioned in the comic by H3LPYOU.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

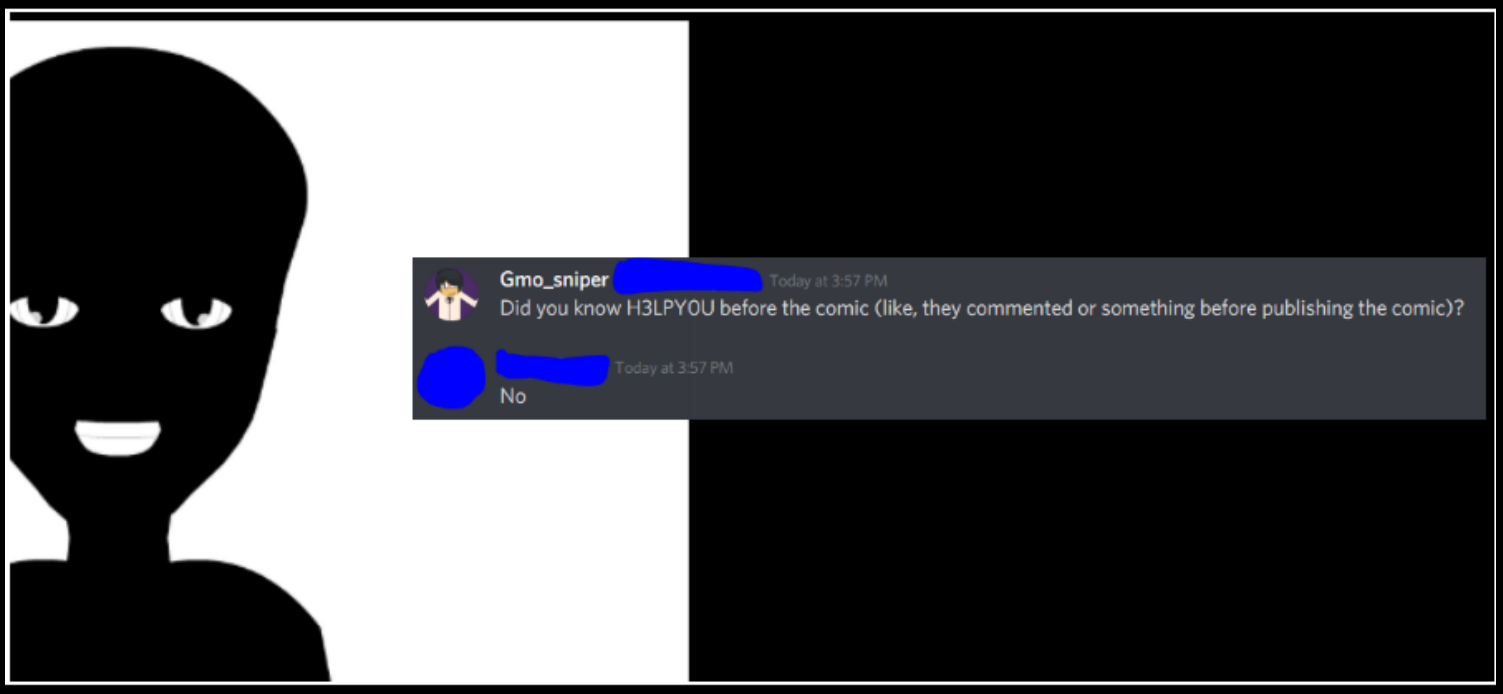
Here is the interview I managed to conduct. The person is gonna be anonymous (not even Blave knows who it is)



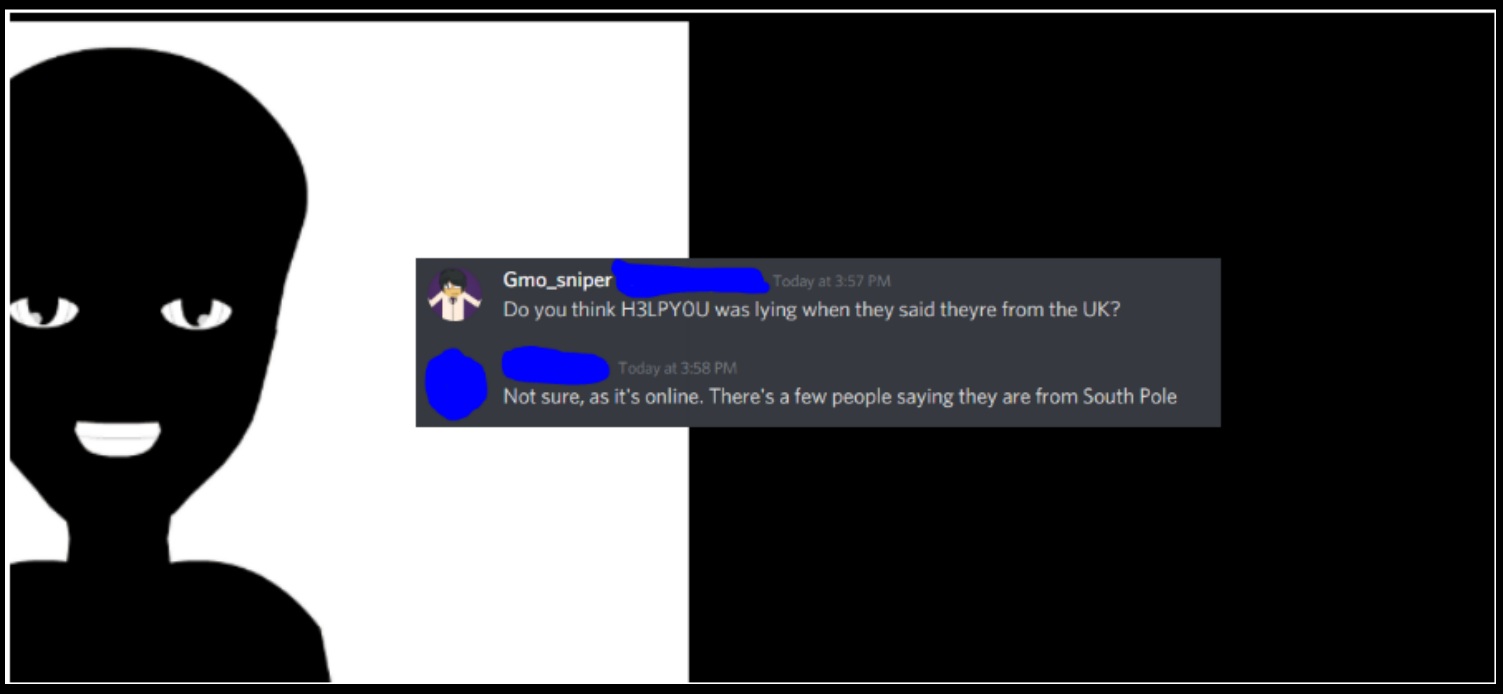


Gmo_sniper [redacted] Today at 3:53 PM
How did you feel about getting called out at first?
[redacted] Today at 3:55 PM
I was surprised, given that I'm not gay at all, but sad too as not every character is gay or such

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

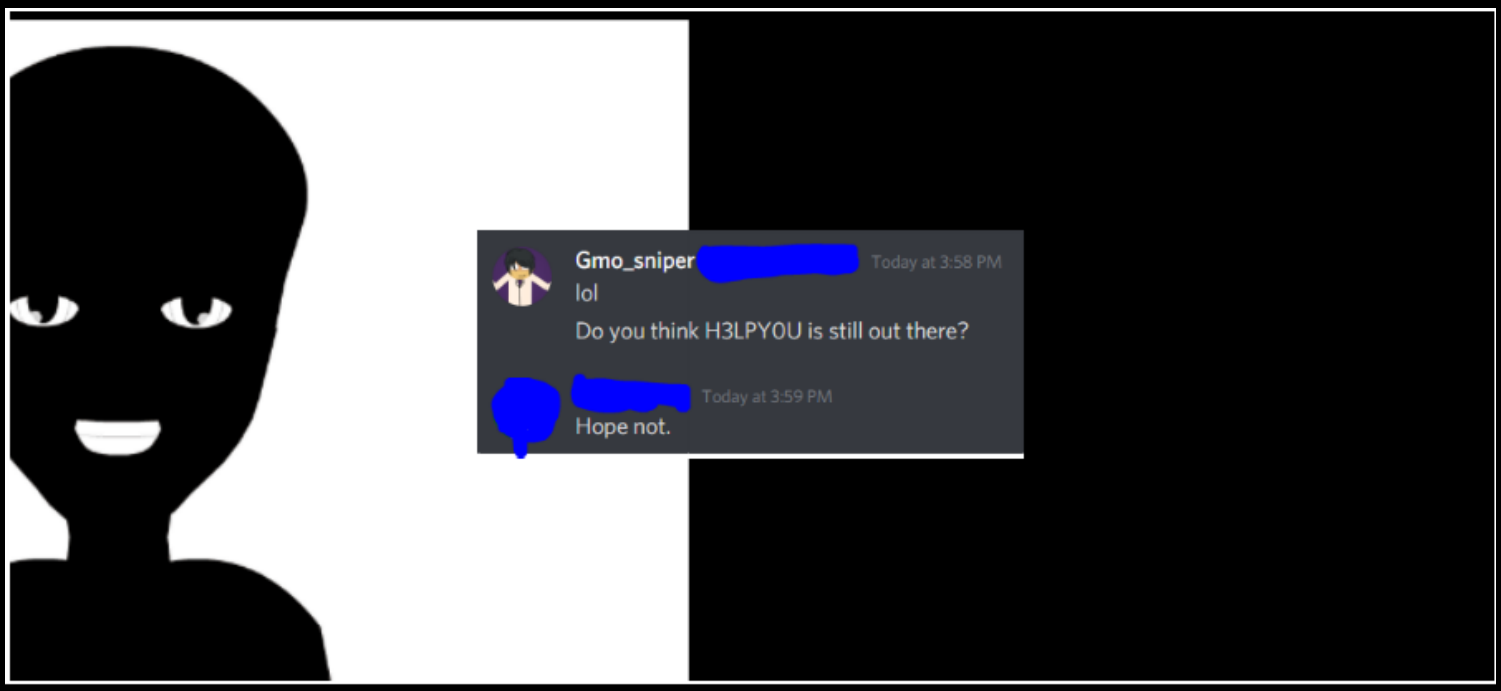


Gmo_sniper [redacted] Today at 3:57 PM
Did you know H3LPY0U before the comic (like, they commented or something before publishing the comic)?
[redacted] Today at 3:57 PM
No

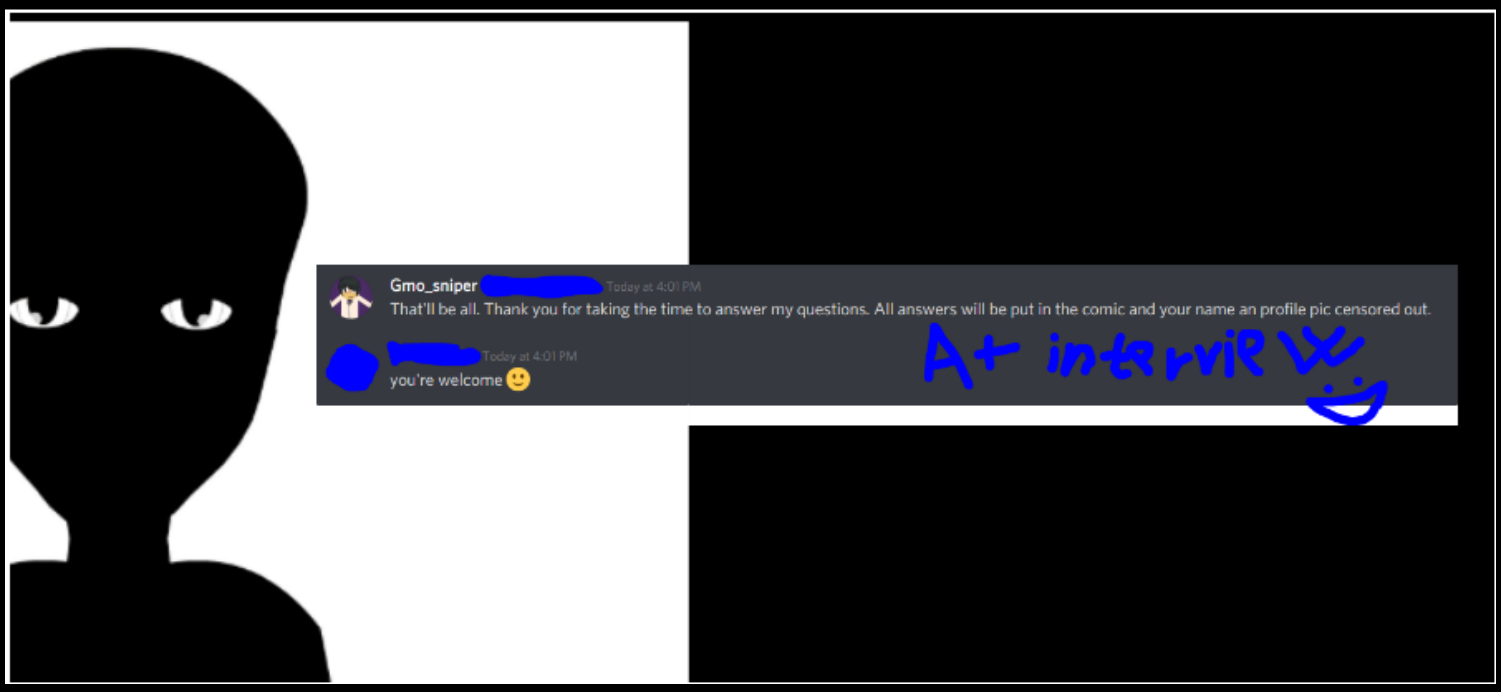


Gmo_sniper [redacted] Today at 3:57 PM
Do you think H3LPY0U was lying when they said theyre from the UK?
[redacted] Today at 3:58 PM
Not sure, as it's online. There's a few people saying they are from South Pole

© 2021 PIXTON.COM



Gmo_sniper [redacted] Today at 3:59 PM
Who do you think is H3LPY0U (dont worry, its all anonymous)?
If you don't want to answer, you don't have to.
[redacted] Today at 4:00 PM
No idea.



Gmo_sniper [redacted] Today at 4:01 PM
That'll be all. Thank you for taking the time to answer my questions. All answers will be put in the comic and your name an profile pic censored out.
[redacted] Today at 4:01 PM
you're welcome

Funny thing is I did a tad bit of research for this. Lets start out with what a bot is so we can make sense of things later on, a bot is is a software application that runs automated tasks on a platform. A bot may be able to do stuff on Pixton, but it will be hard considering Pixton is a COMIC MAKING WEBSITE. But who knows, lets see what my co-host has to say.

I mean I for one don't think Shannon is a bot... But then again the daily uploads..

But they confessed!

Shannon was clearly joking at that point you tomato! But I am wondering if a bot could run a pixton account and make daily uploads.

I'm not a tomato :,c

Bots are a wonder to the Internet, and many bots exist now, Shannon makes daily uploads and what not, I do think they are not a bot for 2 reasons.
1. The daily uploads and 2. The political awareness, Shannon has so many comics poking fun about recent events.

I'm not a tomato tho :,c

Disregarding what I sad huh..

Anyway. On August 3, 2019 Glitchyboy64 (who is having some trouble with his account right now, please give him some support and help) too made a stunning exposé claiming that J.Maynus is a robot.

in 2014 there was a user named J.Maynus and this user has the same story he/she might not be a robot because like we saw his charcter but

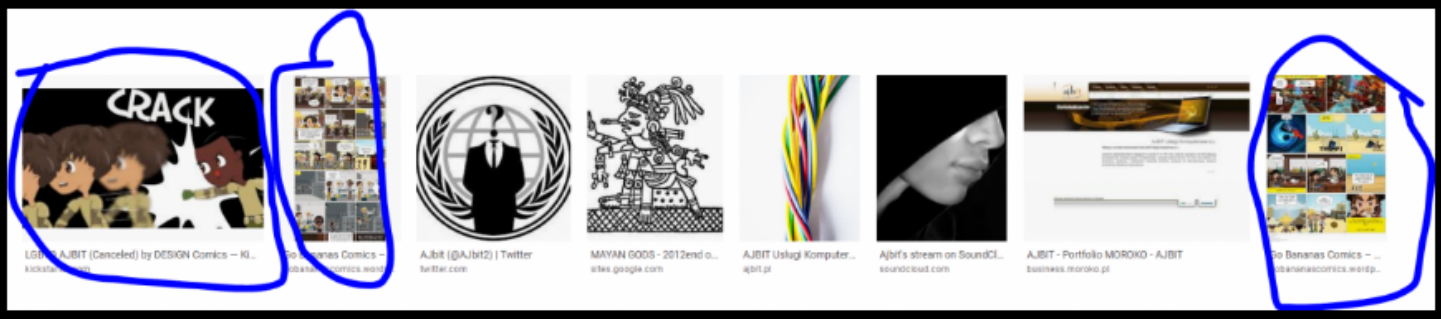
The only problem is, AJBIT wasn't owned by some Rafael guy, but by DES!GN Comics (monkeymagic_99 and NemNem1805) and Pixton.



On March 18th 2020 a brave soul by the name of Gmo_sniper was googling AJBIT and found the Kickstarter (images related to AJBIT are circled).

I was recently googling some stuff on google (where else) and I found some stuff that I never knew about.

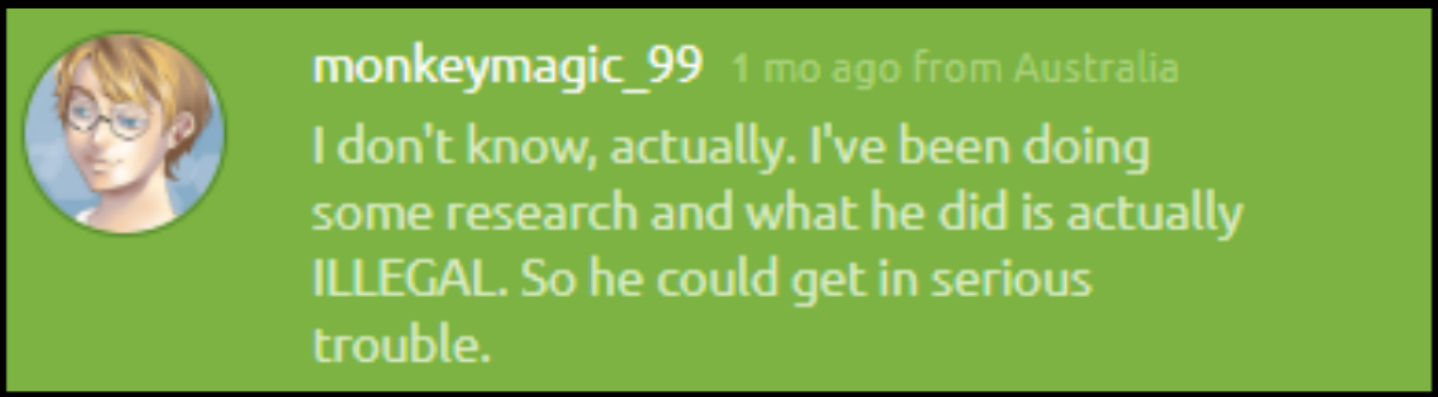
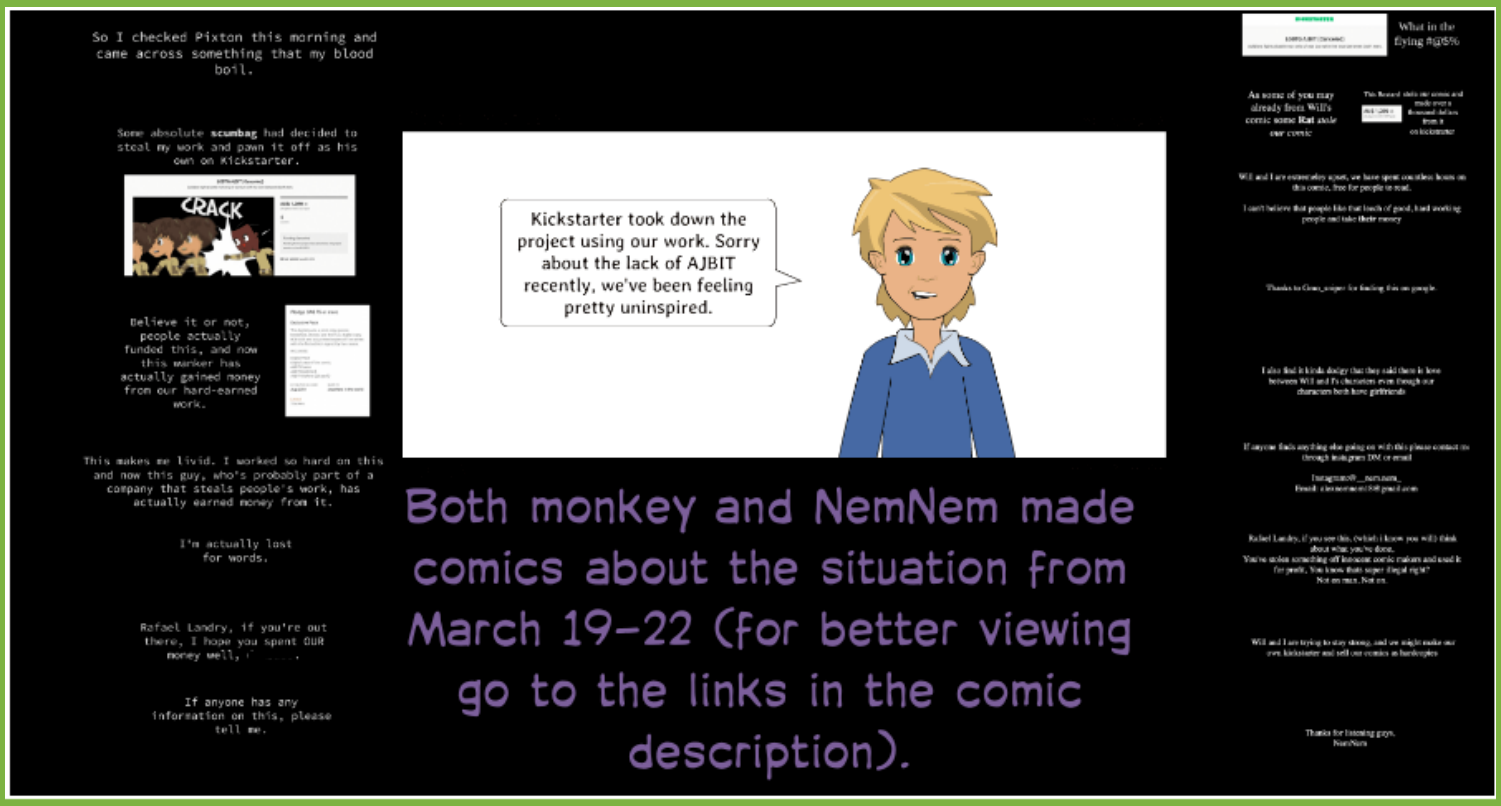
Okay, me and NemNem made the Go bananas website.... But I have absolutely no idea who made that AJBIT Kickstarter, what the #$@%?
monkeymagic_99 1 mo ago from Australia
Legit tho, I have no idea who made it. Probably a troll on Pixton or something, but that's actually quite scary that they used our work and somehow managed to gain over 1,000 dollars. Again I have no idea who made it, so thank you for telling me about it.
Gmo_sniper 1 mo ago from Satellite Provider
Np, I was wierded out at first
monkeymagic_99 1 mo ago from Australia
Yeah, it was probably some %$@# who decided to use our comics for their own gain. But like, what the hell? I'm going to report it to Kickstarter



monkeymagic_99 1 mo ago from Australia
I don't know, actually. I've been doing some research and what he did is actually ILLEGAL. So he could get in serious trouble.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM



So I checked Pixton this morning and came across something that my blood boil.
Some absolute scumbag had decided to steal my work and pawn it off as his own on Kickstarter.
CRACK
Believe it or not, people actually funded this, and now this wanker has actually gained money from our hard-earned work.
This makes me livid. I worked so hard on this and now this guy, who's probably part of a company that steals people's work, has actually earned money from it.
I'm actually lost for words.
Rafael Landry, if you're out there, I hope you spent OUR money well, [redacted].
If anyone has any information on this, please tell me.
Kickstarter took down the project using our work. Sorry about the lack of AJBIT recently, we've been feeling pretty uninspired.
What in the flying #@$%
As some of you may already from Will's comic some Kat stole our comic
Will and I are extremeley upset, we have spent countless hours on this comic, free for people to read.
I can't believe that people like that leech of good, hard working people and take their money
Thanks to Gina_cooper for finding this on google.
I also find it kinda dodgy that they said there is love between Will and I's characters even though our characters both have girlfriends
If anyone finds anything else going on with this please contact us through Instagram DM or email
Rafael Landry, if you see this, (what I know you will) think about what you've done.
You're stolen artwork off innocent comic makers and used it for profit. You know thats super illegal right?
Not on ours. Not on.
Will and I are trying to stay strong, and we might make our own kickstarter and sell our comics in hardcopies
Thanks for listening guys.

Re: LGBTQ AJBIT (Canceled)

Description of copyrighted material: My webcomic, AJBIT, that I made on pixton.com. Here is the link to the stolen comics: https://www.pixton.com/book/5pahfc1f The Pixton copyright laws state that myself and Pixton Comics share the copyright for this comic. (Also, I filed another copyright claim a few minutes ago, but I accidentally used another address. This is my correct address.)

Description of infringing material: They blatantly used my comic for their own financial gain. Over 1,000 AUD was raised. I did not give permission for my work to be used; nor did I give permission for it to be sold and distributed.

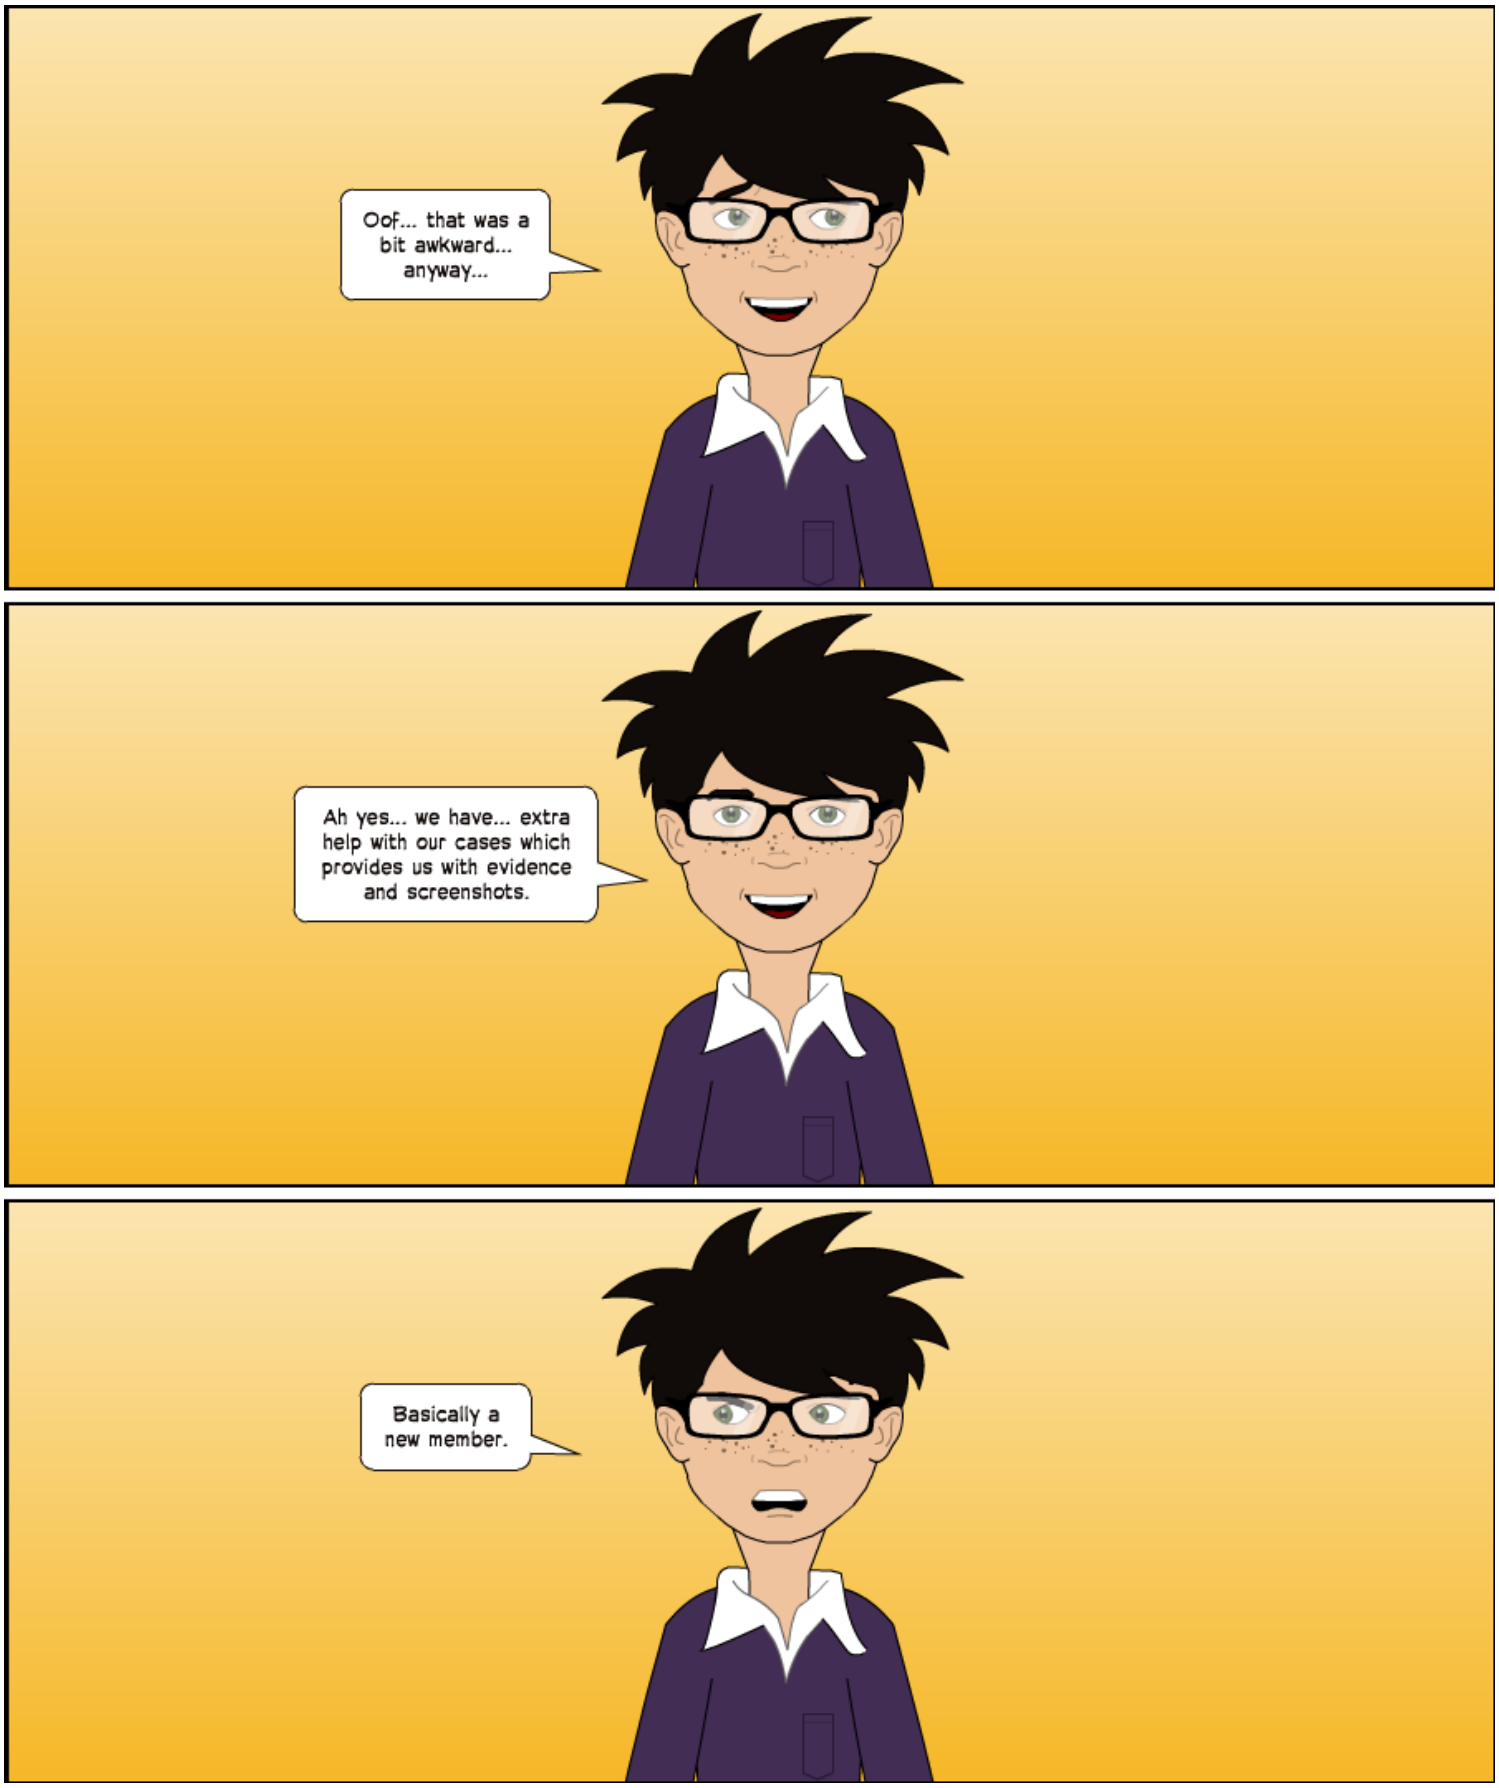
Pixton Unsolved Thanks You!

Thank you for all of your wonderful suggestions.
Except for those two horrible disturbing cases that run chills down the teams' spine's (yes, including CDS now please never mention it again thank you very much).

© 2021 PIXTON.COM



Oof... that was a bit awkward... anyway...
Ah yes... we have... extra help with our cases which provides us with evidence and screenshots.
Basically a new member.

But so far, we still got 6 episodes of topics to make. So Pixton Unsolved is not ending any time soon.
And instead of celebrating with the fans, Blave is off having crazy adventures...
What even is a spooker doodle his speaking makes no sense...

Wait... fellow Pixton authors and my friends, historic toons 14 and TheRosieGirl? Why are you dressed as pigeons and wandering around the office building the Pixton Unsolved studio is located at?
Blave hired us as part of a scheme to get you occupied so you would have no chance of entering the studio...
Nonsense! Why would Blave want to keep me out of the studio?

Hello, I'm 21_Potter, formerly known as 21_Marker. I'm another unnecessary cameo in a joke episode of Pixton Unsolved although technically I drive the plot forward and disprove confusing claims.
As Blave has presented, I told Joey and Ilyas in a comment that I was Noey Jigro.
I can confirm the comment was a joke and I'm not actually Noey. Gmo still bugs me on Discord about it probably out of spite because he thinks someone else getting credit for his "masterful work" as Noey is outrageous.

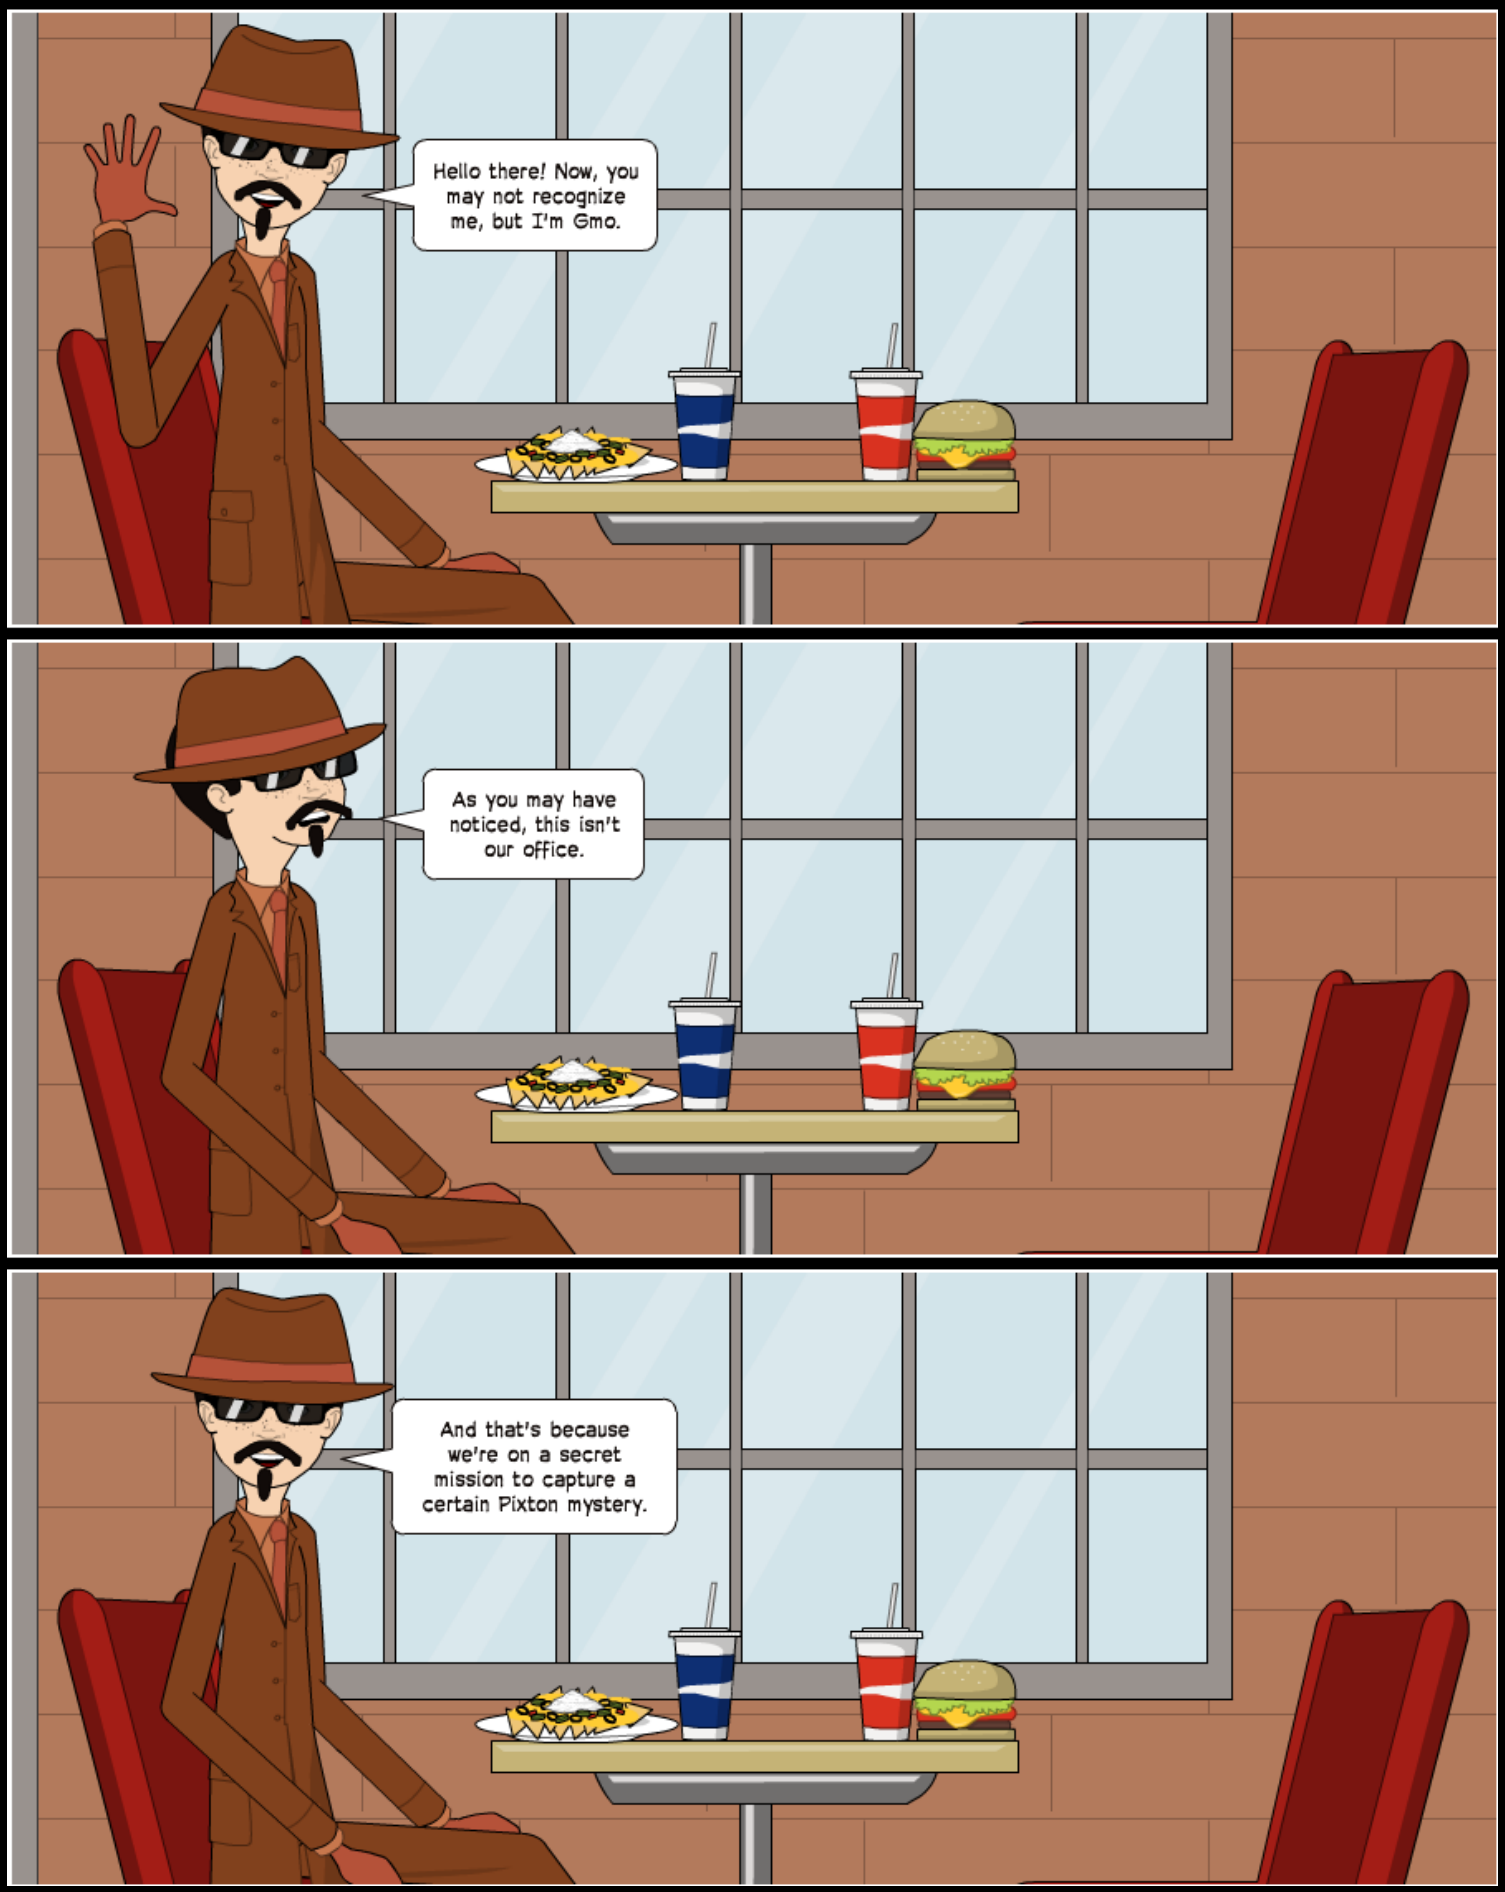
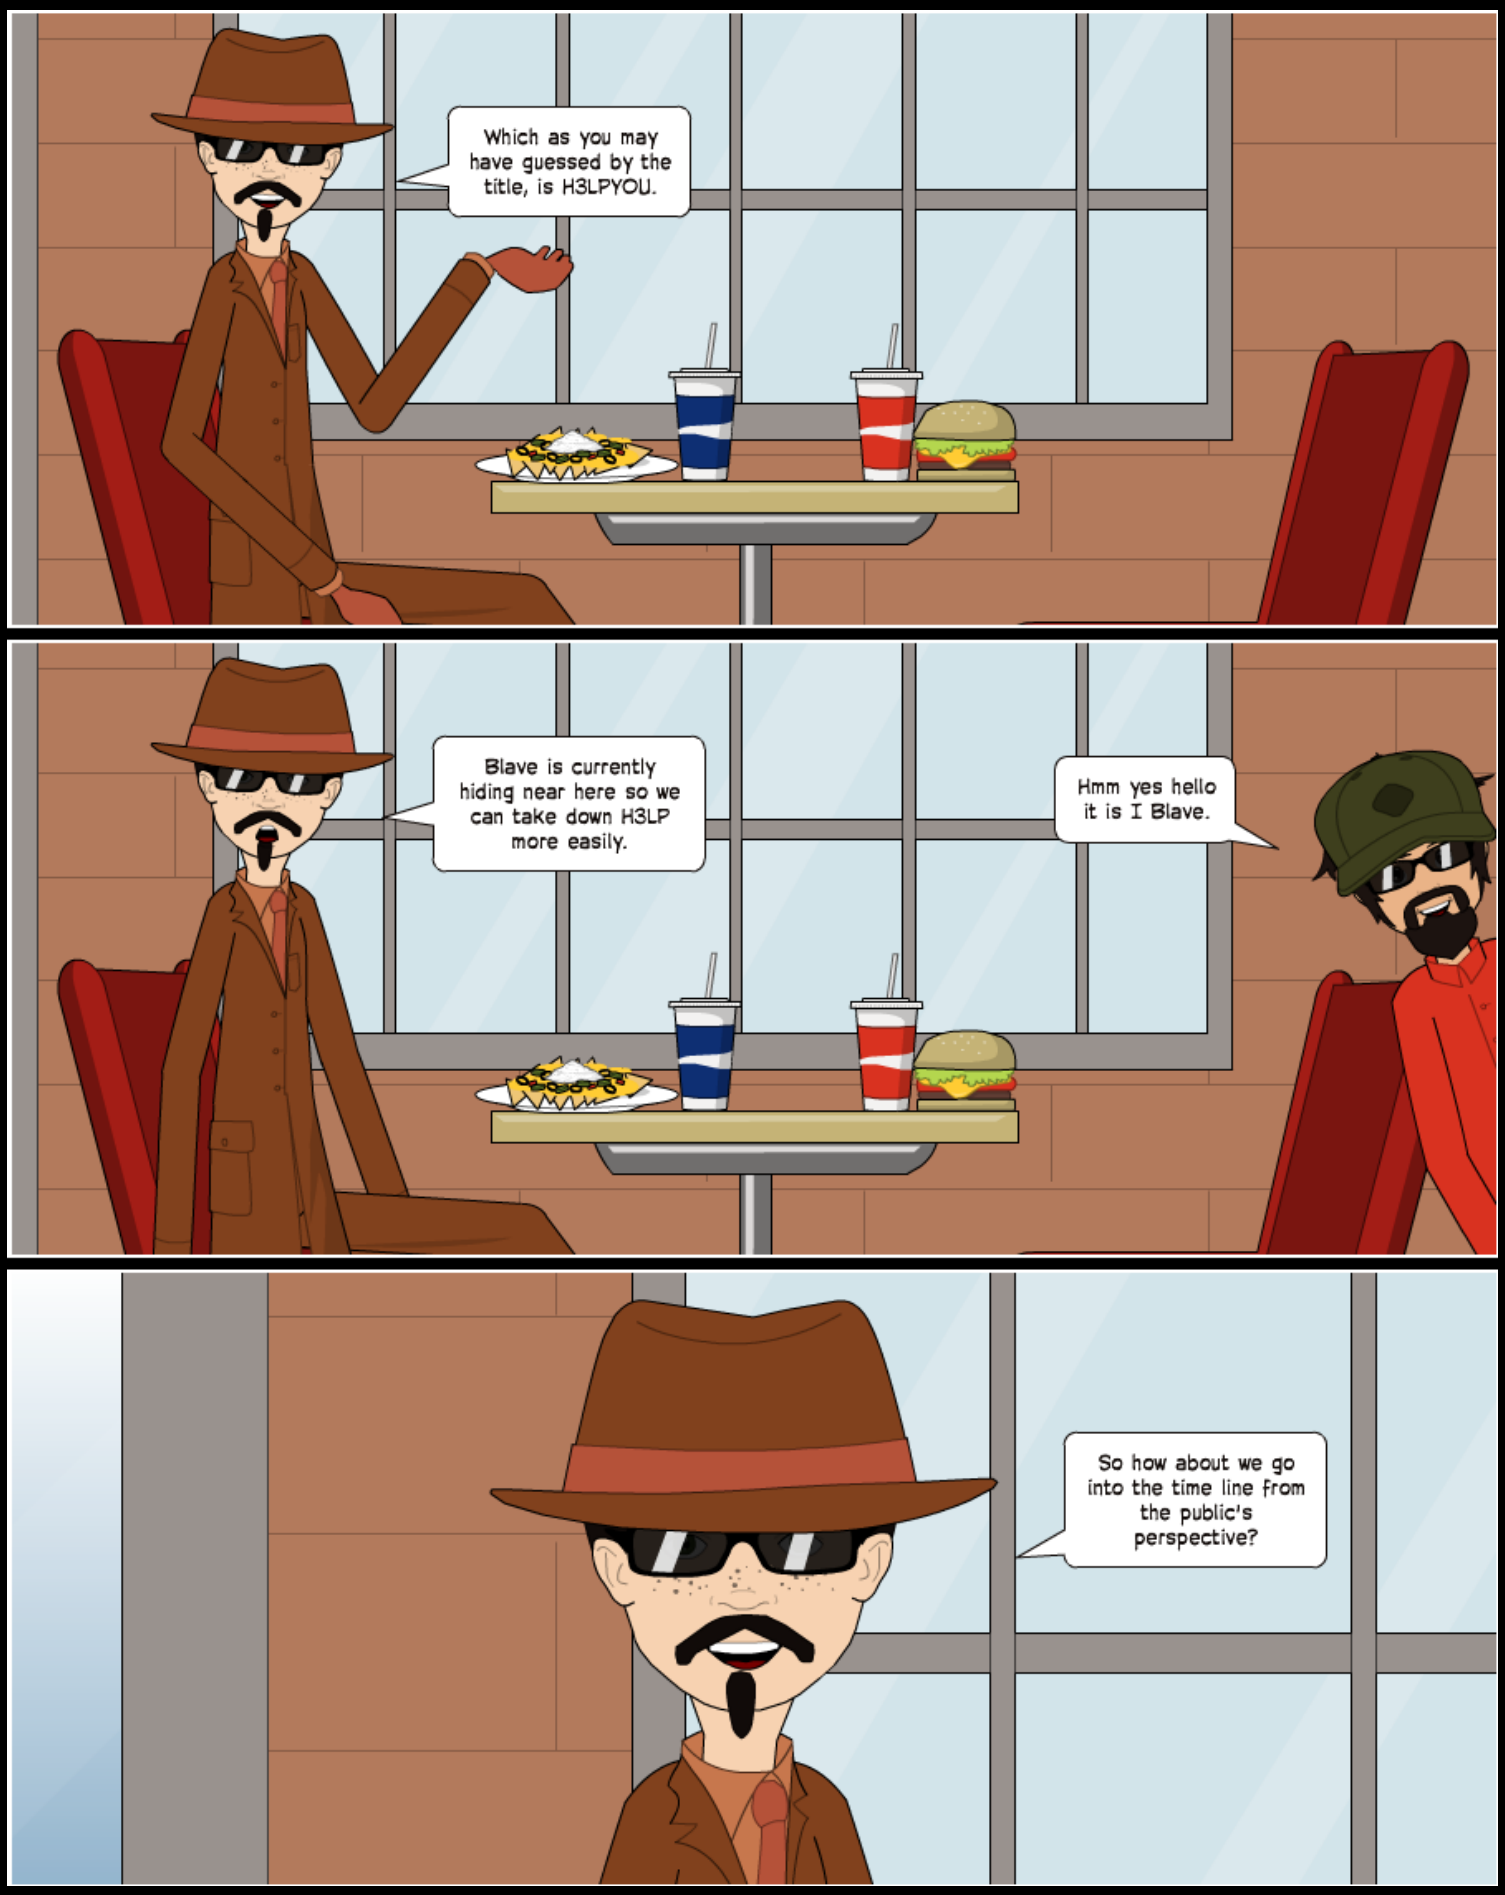
The Bizarre Return of H3LPY0U - V3



Hello there! Now, you may not recognize me, but I'm Gmo.
As you may have noticed, this isn't our office.
And that's because we're on a secret mission to capture a certain Pixton mystery.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM



Which as you may have guessed by the title, is H3LPYOU.
Blave is currently hiding near here so we can take down H3LP more easily.
Hmm yes hello it is I Blave.
So how about we go into the time line from the public's perspective?

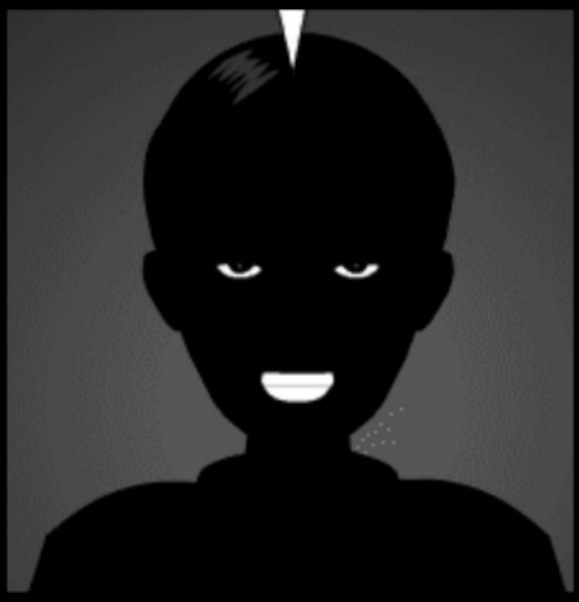
© 2021 PIXTON.COM

On August 15, a user named H3LPYOU made a comic calling out several authors he disliked. Most of them were mainly a part of the LGBTQ+ community.

Pixton quickly deleted his comic and banned his profile, causing his comic to be forgotten and for H3LPYOU to fall into obscurity.

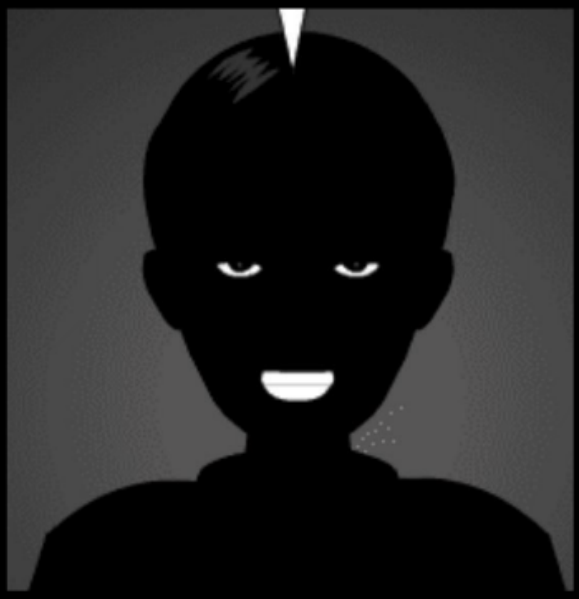
© 2021 PIXTON.COM

On April 24th (coincidentally a day after my birthday) Blave and I published The Unsolved Case of H3LPYOU as the first episode of Pixton Unsolved, bringing attention to H3LPYOU (you're welcome H3LPYOU).



Finally, on 11 August, a user named -------... made a comic telling people that they were H3LP's friend and that he passed away due to suicide.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

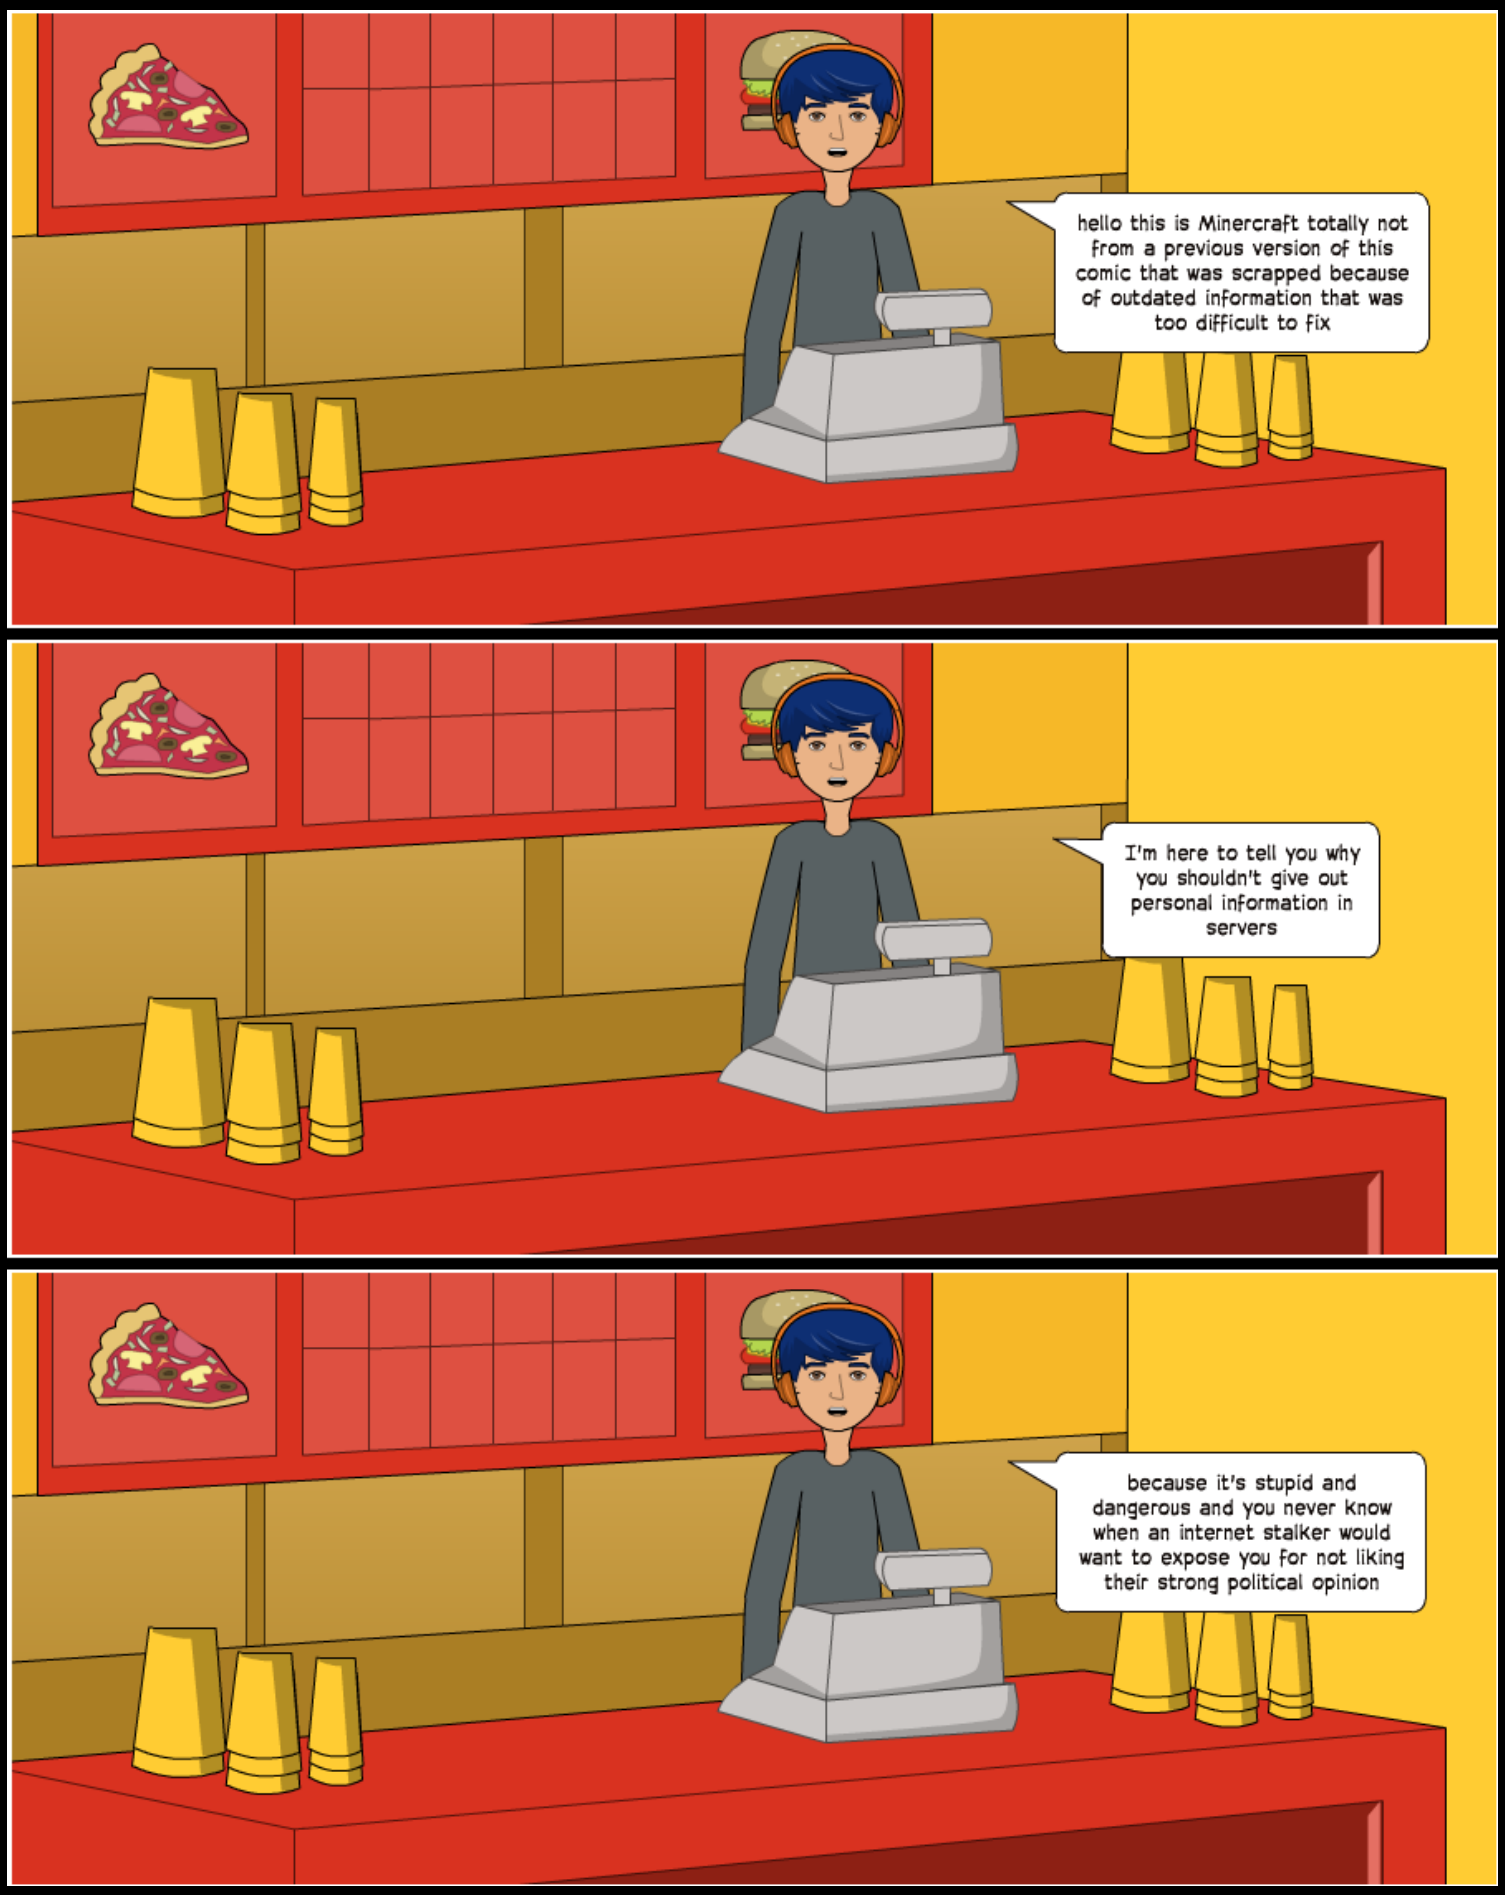


Surprisingly enough, the comic was never removed by Pixton (probably because it was about suicide).

Yeeeahhh... the public didn't know much of what happened so a lot of information was left out.

So how about we take a look at it from the perspective of authors such as... I don't know... Minercraft?

© 2021 PIXTON.COM



hello this is Minercraft totally not from a previous version of this comic that was scrapped because of outdated information that was too difficult to fix
I'm here to tell you why you shouldn't give out personal information in servers because it's stupid and dangerous and you never know when an internet stalker would want to expose you for not liking their strong political opinion

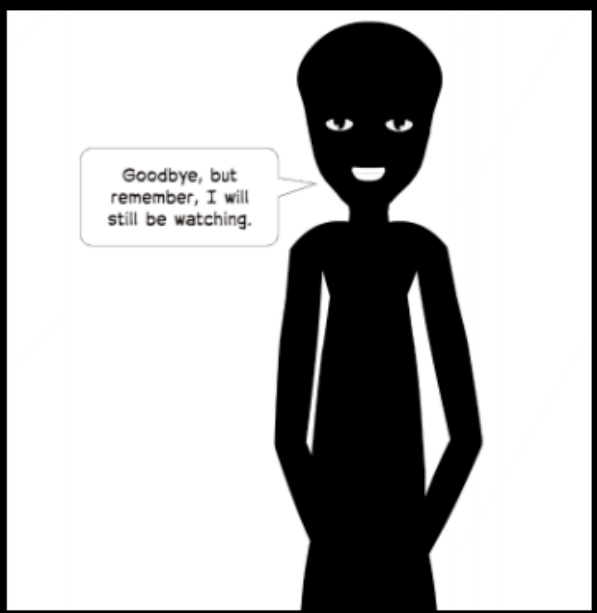
© 2021 PIXTON.COM



The timeline from the perspective of the called out authors is a little different from the public's.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

In June/July, a few months after the Unsolved comic is made, someone named NOH3LP comes into the picture. They claim to be the original H3LPYOU.

Again, they called out a few authors (including myself, which was very epic because being called out by the best Pixton villain is a great achievement).

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

Unfortunately I was asleep while he made the comic and was in a confrontation with two anonymous authors who were merely teasing him.

Due to this Blave and I have created a Pixton Unsolved Discord server and investigated further into this NOH3LP person.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

After half an hour, they changed their name from NOH3LP to -------... also deleting their comic.

They were found however thanks to an author's follower page.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

After input from some of our investigators, we came to all agree on one thing: this wasn't H3LPYOU, this was just some poopy impostor using H3LPYOU as a way to get more attention.

The reasons back then were that they randomly capitalized words, unlike H3LPYOU who had near perfect grammar. Another reason was the different avatar, which was if you're H3LPYOU you should be able to replicate close enough for it to look like the OG.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

Thankfully enough, my prayers were answered.

Because literally a day later a user named YOUN33DH3LP made a comic.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

In the comic he revealed a lot of information about certain authors.

Most notably, he mentioned he knew about someone's Facebook account. He never linked it or anything, he just supposedly knew about it.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

This caused the author who the account belonged to to delete their account and private all of their social media.

H3LPYOU was being attacked in the comments and only I was smart enough to ask him for his Discord tag (which he gave).

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

We had many conversations, one of which revealed something interesting.

Eventually he sent me a message telling me he was going to kill himself. I misinterpreted the message and thought he was just going to leave Pixton forever. Some time later -------... made a comic telling everyone H3LPYOU had committed suicide.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

Anyway, after much conversation with my investigators, we came to many interesting conclusions and theories. But here I'll make a visual timeline of our most popular and likely theory.

But first, here is the story of a user named CoolDanishStudios...

CoolDanishStudios, also known as CDS used to be an author on Pixton

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

On the 29th May 2019, CDS was exposed by another author and former friend of his as a child pr*dator.

CDS went full collateral mode, making his banner and quote say that the author who exposed him was lying.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

After CDS' reputation was damaged, he deleted all of his comics and changed his name.

Unfortunately his comments are probably gone so nobody can find him anymore.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

However, when discussing this case with an investigator who was there to witness these events, they posted an image of his follower map, showing that I was following him.

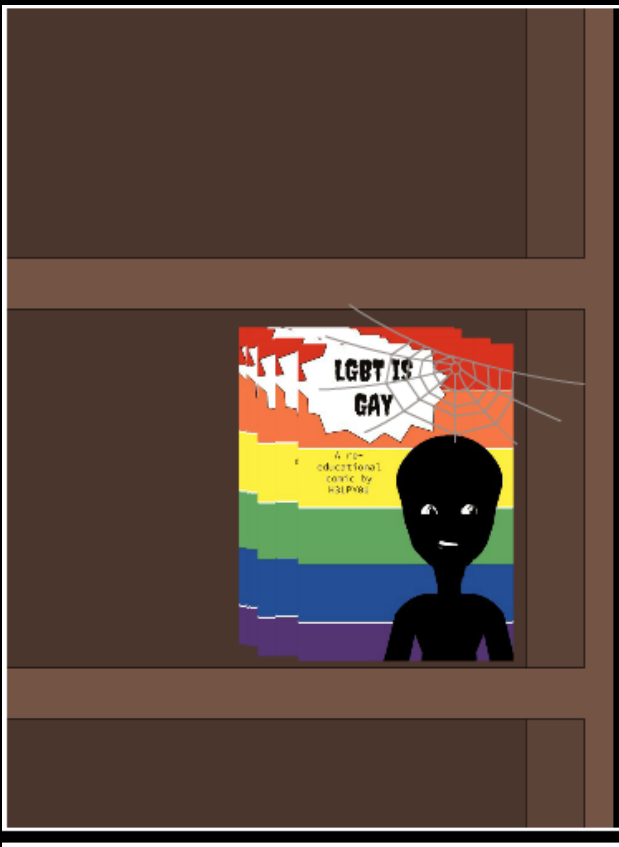
Unfortunately my follow map is crowded so there is no way to find CDS through it, but if anyone who has a smaller follow map followed CDS back in the day and is still online, then we could use their follow map to find CDS' account, but it probably won't be of much use now.

And now that I've told you the story of CDS, I think it's time I give you the full timeline of H3LPYOU's antics pieced together with the help of our investigators based on all of the evidence we have collected.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

Note that this may not be what actually happened but our theory on what occured.
CDS is exposed as a child pr*dator thanks to a former friend of his and he flees, changing his name multiple times to stay hidden. He transforms his account into the -------... account.
Hello yes unsuspecting fellow author I am not the one known as CDS.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

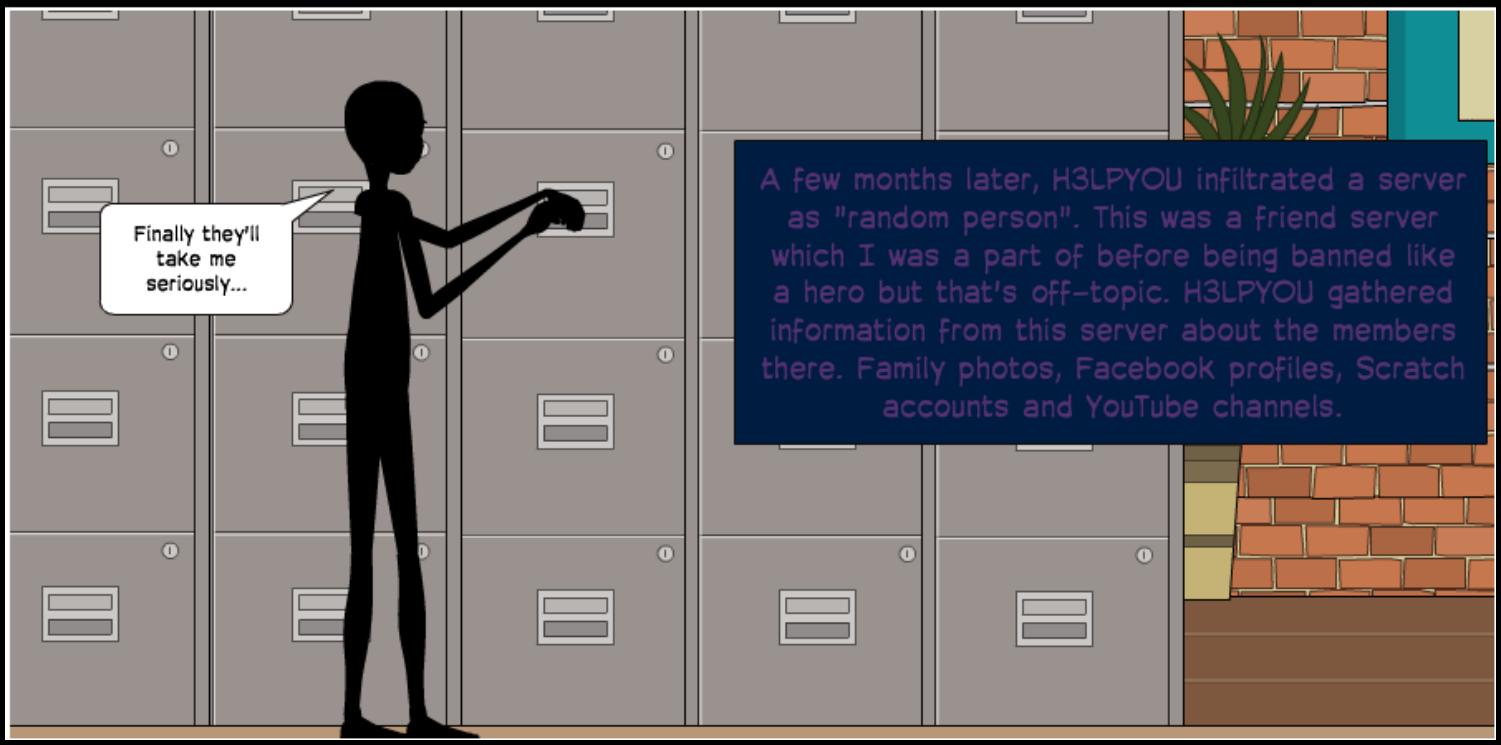


Eventually he creates the H3LPYOU account and his infamous comic, calling out several authors, most of them LGBTQ+. It makes sense because their former friend who exposed them was a part of the LGBTQ+ community.

His comic garnered little to no attention however.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

Today on Pixton Unsolved, we take a look at the unsolved case of H3LPYOU.
PIXTON UNSOLVED
Eventually we picked the case up and covered it (without doing much investigating might I add) giving H3LPYOU the fame he always desired (again, you're welcome H3LPYOU).



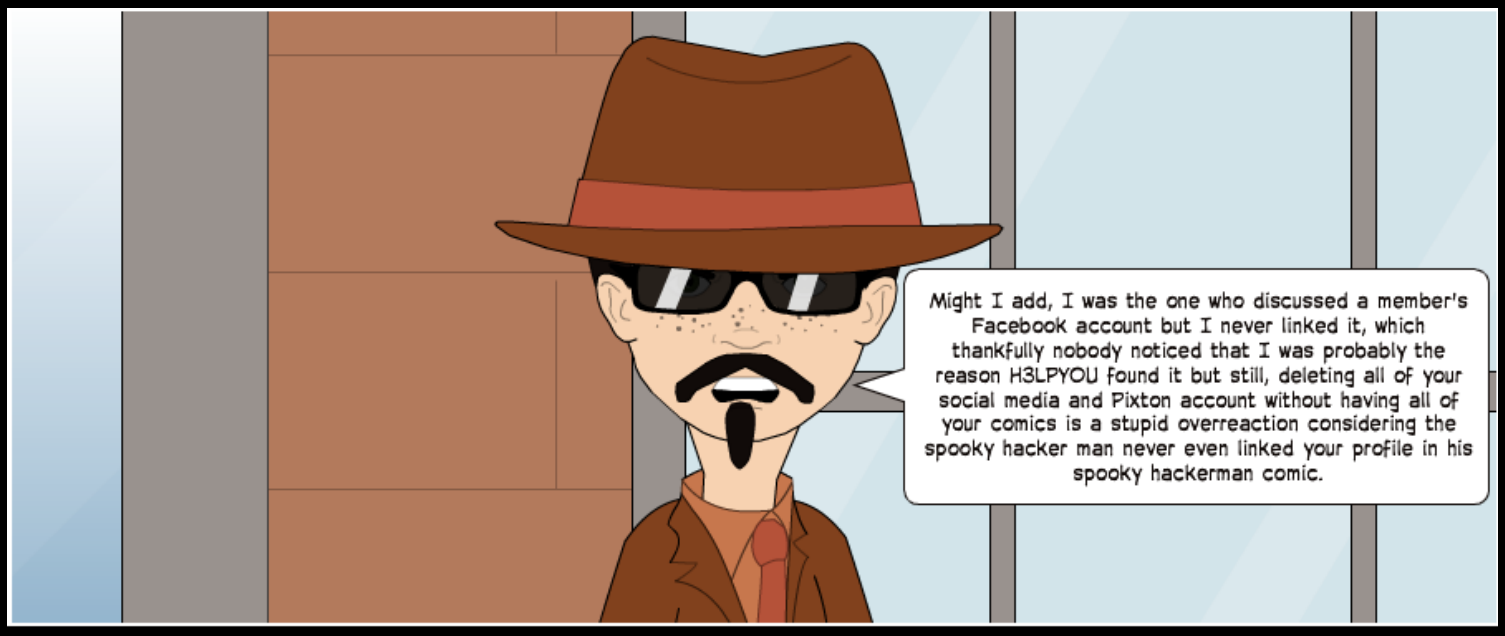
Finally they'll take me seriously...
A few months later, H3LPYOU infiltrated a server as "random person". This was a friend server which I was a part of before being banned like a hero but that's off-topic. H3LPYOU gathered information from this server about the members there. Family photos, Facebook profiles, Scratch accounts and YouTube channels.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

Hello I am Spooky hackerman And I Am holding a Finger Gun to My Head because I'm So Quirky and Edgy.
Then H3LPYOU uses his former account to make a comic spooking everyone, but he's doing everything differently, as if he's indirectly telling us this is a different person.

I saw your Facebook but I won't link it. Oh, you want proof? C'mon man just trust me how else would I know you had a Facebook if I didn't see it?
H3LP then makes the YOUN33DH3LP account revealing personal details about authors. Details that were all posted in the friend group.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM



Might I add, I was the one who discussed a member's Facebook account but I never linked it, which thankfully nobody noticed that I was probably the reason H3LPYOU found it but still, deleting all of your social media and Pixton account without having all of your comics is a stupid overreaction considering the spooky hacker man never even linked your profile in his spooky hackerman comic.

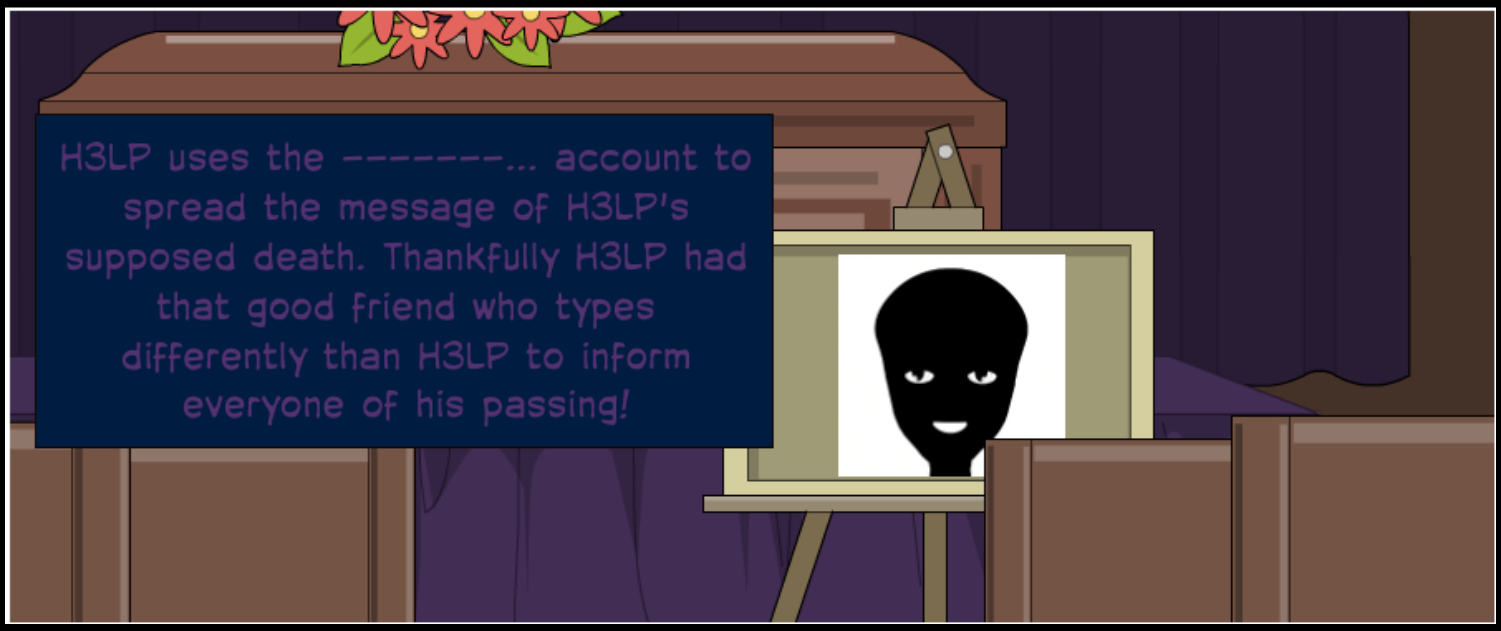
H3LP writes to me about his plan which I misinterpret as him telling me he's moving away from the H3LP persona and leaving Pixton.



H3LP uses the --------... account to spread the message of H3LP's supposed death. Thankfully H3LP had that good friend who types differently than H3LP to inform everyone of his passing!

next time!

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

It is highly recommended that you download this comic before reading in case it is taken down. It's also so that you can read it later if you don't want too much text dumped on you all of a sudden.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

Let me give you a bit of history. During 2015-2016 an author named Elvination used to be friends with Chase Hunter. They would exchange emails (which I can't show here because privacy or whatever). In one of these emails Chase sent a picture of "himself" which was literally just a picture of Nash Grier. After he was called out, he gave a fake-sounding apology. Elvination later in 2020 made a comic about the situation with another apology from Chase basically saying "C'mon guys I was young and stupid I would never do this again please trust me!!!"

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

The comic was removed by Pixton 5 hours after being posted because "ew drama poopy also private emails" but if you want to see the comic yourself it's buried somewhere in The World of Pixton Discord server. I won't post the link to the server in this comic so if you're not already there you'll have to find a link another way (please don't post the link to it in the comments).

Anyway I made a half-joking response in the comments of the comic saying "I'm totally not gonna make an Unsolved about this". In the comments of Chase's assumption junction a Pixtoner also said that their assumption about Chase was that he's a 40 year old catfish who made up the Chase persona. What I found odd about this was that Chase never responded to it, not even in a joking manner like you'd expect a person like him to do. If I was accused of something similar, true or not, I would say something like "haha I agree" because joking about it throws off suspicion.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

While looking through the comments I saw that I had previously asked Chase that if he's a former EMT he should be able to tell me his thoughts about a video showcasing a new medical device. He never responded. Maybe because he wasn't ever an actual EMT but Chase would never lie, right? Right? Anyway the video was a joke video made by Michael Reeves which showcased his interpretation of the Da Vinci Robot. You'd expect Chase to respond because he realized it's a joke video. But who knows, maybe he didn't even watch it in the first place.

Eventually because of my comments on both of the comics I was invited to a team comic by Percy and one of his very close friends.

Hey man. I saw what you commented in that comic.

I don't think you're a bad guy, man. I truly don't. I mildly understand the entertainment you believe you could get out of making a Pixton Unsolved comic, but at what cost? What does one get out of publicly shaming? I'll tell you what you get out of it. A case of a young adult who is skipping classes in his final year of a medical degree, depressed, and half way to insanity. That's the state my best friend is in right now.

How sad is it that humanity has come to the point where we find the need to publicly bash others in order to teach them a lesson. As if we don't have enough drama and hatred going around in this world. Now let's all drag eachother down for mistakes we made 4 years ago. How disgusting.

He gets it. I think we all do. That's enough.

No, I'm not asking you to forgive what he did. Don't. Go ahead and believe what you want to believe, but don't feed the fire that's burned someone so badly already. I'm asking you to feel some empathy and compassion towards another human being. From one man to another. I'm asking you to consider the psychological effects your actions might have on another human being before you decide to throw out a clickbaity comic for the sake of attention, views and pitiful gossip. And as [redacted] mentioned, mob mentality and cancel culture is very toxic. Again, I believe you are a good person who would not want to engage in such things.

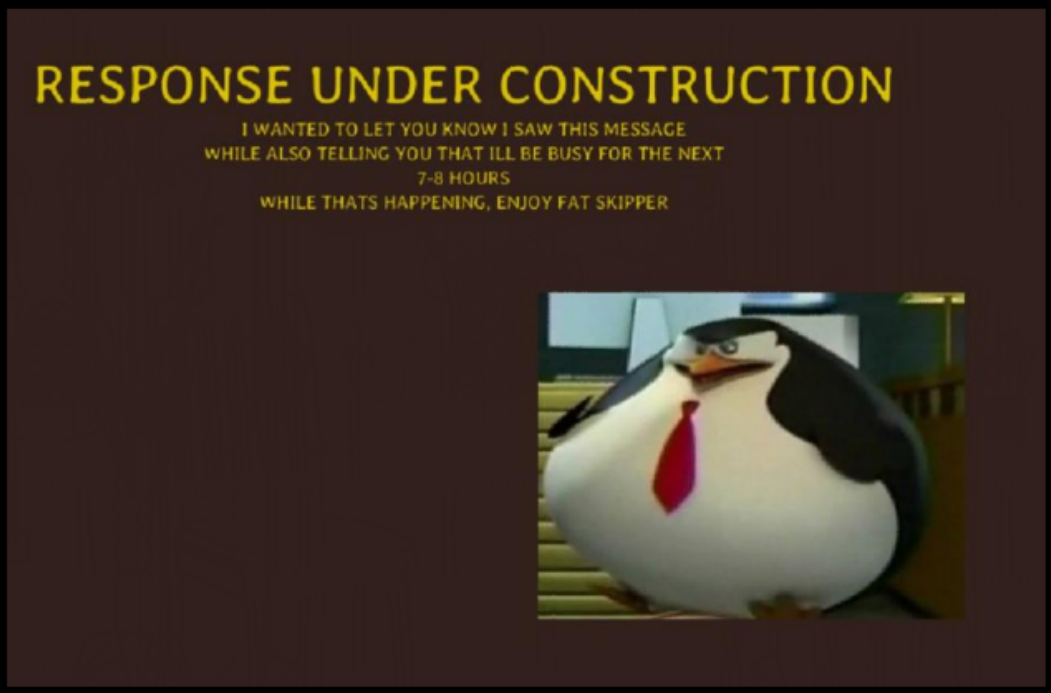
And if none of what I said means anything to you, then take heed to this; consider the bigger consequences of your actions. I've already addressed your allegations with Clive/the Pixton moderators personally and made them aware of this, so this is a fair warning to you. I'm quite aware of the few issues you were involved in before, so I'm sure you already know what I'm implying. Look, I'm not here to make beef with you man. I'm addressing you privately on the matter because I believe this doesn't need to be a big deal in the public eye. I really don't think you're a bad person. Just think before you do anything.

NB: I added [redacted] to this as witness because I want all of us to be honest with ourselves about what was said and what wasn't.

-Percy

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

Anyway here Percy, I'll finally directly respond to you. I won't go into the guilt tripping or the "humanity likes to drama" parts. But here goes: Unsolved isn't clickbait and it never was/will be. The only episode I would consider clickbait is Noey but that was mostly a joke episode. Also, if by the "few issues" you mean my apology comic that came out around the time, that was Logan Paul's apology slighlty altered. Good job on noticing, Perc. Also about you having Clive in your pocket to ban me, I don't know if you're telling the truth or not, but eitherway I don't care anymore.



RESPONSE UNDER CONSTRUCTION
I WANTED TO LET YOU KNOW I SAW THIS MESSAGE
WHILE ALSO TELLING YOU THAT ILL BE BUSY FOR THE NEXT
7-8 HOURS
WHILE THATS HAPPENING, ENJOY FAT SKIPPER

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

Anyway I left Perc on a cliffhanger here telling him I'll respond in 7-8 hours (I never responded). It remained there mostly to make you mad (which I don't know if it did) but at least it remained there before you chose to delete the comic.

Anyway back to everything else I have prepared.

Over the course of a few months after the team comic, several people have been making alterations to articles about Chase, Elvination, and the Calgary Crew (the group Percy, Chase, _Perfectionist_, and Day_Dreamer17 are all part of).

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

The first edit was on the Calgary Crew (I'll call them CC from now on) where they changed a minor detail. They deleted the words 'claim to' but in doing so, the mysterious editor had revealed their IP. You see, when you edit an article on a Fandom website without making an account, it reveals your IP address... which in this case led to Al'Mutrah. Al'Mutrah is a five hour drive to Dubai. Dubai is a very popular location in Percy's comics. Now when I say this, I'm not doxxing the mysterious editor, because technically, they're the ones who revealed their IP on a public website. This is now public information which I should be free to use.

Anyway... the investigators and I have now nicknamed the mysterious editor as Mr. Dubai. Mr. Dubai is possibly Percy, just using a VPN to throw us off. But what I think is likelier is that Percy was actually in Al'Mutrah, didn't know his IP location would be revealed, and so he edited the article. What proves this in my opinion are the following edits trying to remove the Chase/Elvination drama from their articles by new users. One of these users shared their name with another Pixton user, but the user they shared their name with was inactive at the time so it's unlikely this was them.

As you can see here, Percy claimed to have a tournament in Taekwondo or whatever. But I searched and searched and searched and there literally wasn't ANY information about a competition taking place in Canada. The only news I could find about things that happened during this time frame was a post informing people that Grandmaster James Lo had passed away. No mention of a competition in Canada anywhere, But y'know, maybe the competition wasn't well-known and it was smaller, right? Percy would never lie!

I'm pretty sure at least Chase and Percy are real separate people. Not sure about Day Dreamer and Perfectionist though.
But what I do think Chase and Percy are is that they're just boring uninteresting friends who think they will become more interesting by making up lies about themselves.
Anyway, I can't wait for Percy to make an effortless fake apology or to play the victim card saying I was the real villain all along for "causing drama", "bullying Percy by investigating him" or "making private issues public all for a clickbaity comic".

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

But Percy, you've greatly disappointed me.
Originally what me and my investigators believed is that you were some kind of Arab hackerman who was running 4 alternate accounts at the same time. But no, instead you're actually at least 2 real people who like to make up lies about themselves to be more interesting.
Like... even the team comic you threatened me with is now kind of disappointing if I'm being honest...

Also final complaint: you and Chase don't talk like real people, you talk literally like sitcom characters. What does that even mean.

It is highly recommended that you download this comic before reading in case it is taken down. It's also so that you can read it later if you don't want too much text dumped on you all of a sudden. Also I'll repost the comic whenever it is taken down.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

Let me give you a bit of history. During 2015-2016 an author named Elvination used to be friends with Chase Hunter. They would exchange emails (which I can't show here because privacy or whatever). In one of these emails Chase sent a picture of "himself" which was literally just a picture of Nash Grier. After he was called out, he gave a fake-sounding apology. Elvination later in 2020 made a comic about the situation with another apology from Chase basically saying "C'mon guys I was young and stupid I would never do this again please trust me!!!"

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

The comic was removed by Pixton 5 hours after being posted because "ew drama poopy also private emails" but if you want to see the comic yourself it's buried somewhere in The World of Pixton Discord server. I won't post the link to the server in this comic so if you're not already there you'll have to find a link another way (please don't post the link to it in the comments).

Anyway I made a half-joking response in the comments of the comic saying "I'm totally not gonna make an Unsolved about this". In the comments of Chase's assumption junction a Pixtoner also said that their assumption about Chase was that he's a 40 year old catfish who made up the Chase persona. What I found odd about this was that Chase never responded to it, not even in a joking manner like you'd expect a person like him to do. If I was accused of something similar, true or not, I would say something like "haha I agree" because joking about it throws off suspicion.

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

While looking through the comments I saw that I had previously asked Chase that if he's a former EMT he should be able to tell me his thoughts about a video showcasing a new medical device. He never responded. Maybe because he wasn't ever an actual EMT but Chase would never lie, right? Right? Anyway the video was a joke video made by Michael Reeves which showcased his interpretation of the Da Vinci Robot. You'd expect Chase to respond because he realized it's a joke video. But who knows, maybe he didn't even watch it in the first place.

Eventually because of my comments on both of the comics I was invited to a team comic by Percy and one of his very close friends.

Hey man. I saw what you commented in that comic.

I don't think you're a bad guy, man. I truly don't. I mildly understand the entertainment you believe you could get out of making a Pixton Unsolved comic, but at what cost? What does one get out of publicly shaming? I'll tell you what you get out of it. A case of a young adult who is skipping classes in his final year of a medical degree, depressed, and half way to insanity. That's the state my best friend is in right now.

How sad is it that humanity has come to the point where we find the need to publicly bash others in order to teach them a lesson. As if we don't have enough drama and hatred going around in this world. Now let's all drag eachother down for mistakes we made 4 years ago. How disgusting.

He gets it. I think we all do. That's enough.

No, I'm not asking you to forgive what he did. Don't. Go ahead and believe what you want to believe, but don't feed the fire that's burned someone so badly already. I'm asking you to feel some empathy and compassion towards another human being. From one man to another. I'm asking you to consider the psychological effects your actions might have on another human being before you decide to throw out a clickbaity comic for the sake of attention, views and pitiful gossip. And as [redacted] mentioned, mob mentality and cancel culture is very toxic. Again, I believe you are a good person who would not want to engage in such things.

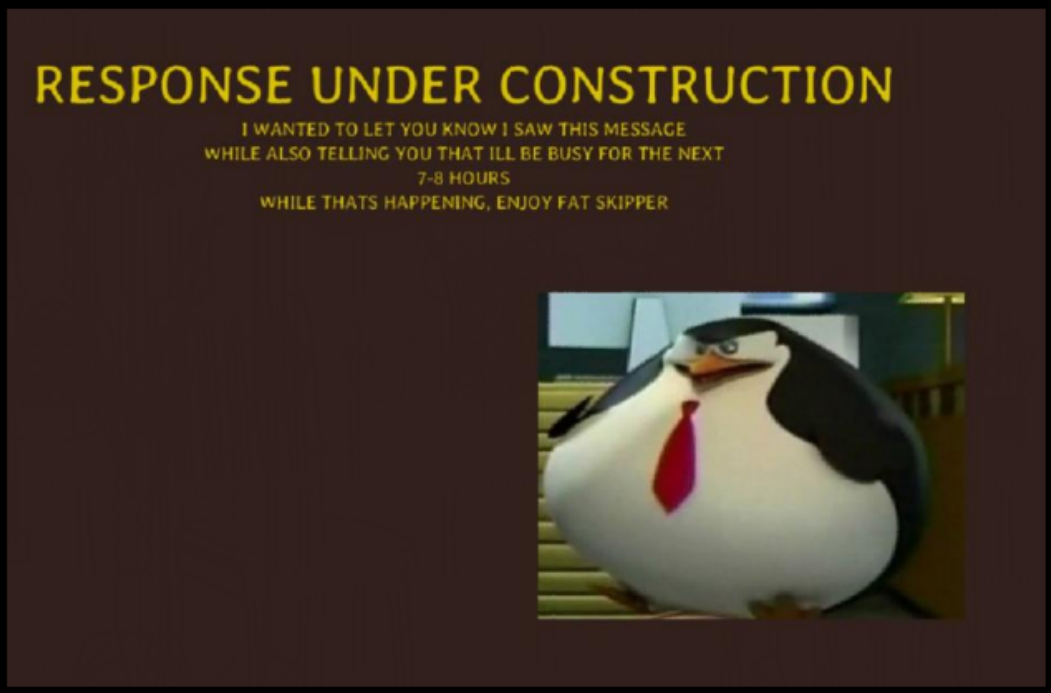
And if none of what I said means anything to you, then take heed to this; consider the bigger consequences of your actions. I've already addressed your allegations with Clive/the Pixton moderators personally and made them aware of this, so this is a fair warning to you. I'm quite aware of the few issues you were involved in before, so I'm sure you already know what I'm implying. Look, I'm not here to make beef with you man. I'm addressing you privately on the matter because I believe this doesn't need to be a big deal in the public eye. I really don't think you're a bad person. Just think before you do anything.

NB: I added [redacted] to this as witness because I want all of us to be honest with ourselves about what was said and what wasn't.

-Percy

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

Anyway here Percy, I'll finally directly respond to you. I won't go into the guilt tripping or the "humanity likes to drama" parts. But here goes: Unsolved isn't clickbait and it never was/will be. The only episode I would consider clickbait is Noey but that was mostly a joke episode. Also, if by the "few issues" you mean my apology comic that came out around the time, that was Logan Paul's apology slighlty altered. Good job on noticing, Perc. Also about you having Clive in your pocket to ban me, I don't know if you're telling the truth or not, but eitherway I don't care anymore.



RESPONSE UNDER CONSTRUCTION
I WANTED TO LET YOU KNOW I SAW THIS MESSAGE
WHILE ALSO TELLING YOU THAT ILL BE BUSY FOR THE NEXT
7-8 HOURS
WHILE THATS HAPPENING, ENJOY FAT SKIPPER

© 2021 PIXTON.COM

Anyway I left Perc on a cliffhanger here telling him I'll respond in 7-8 hours (I never responded). It remained there mostly to make you mad (which I don't know if it did) but at least it remained there before you chose to delete the comic.

Anyway back to everything else I have prepared.

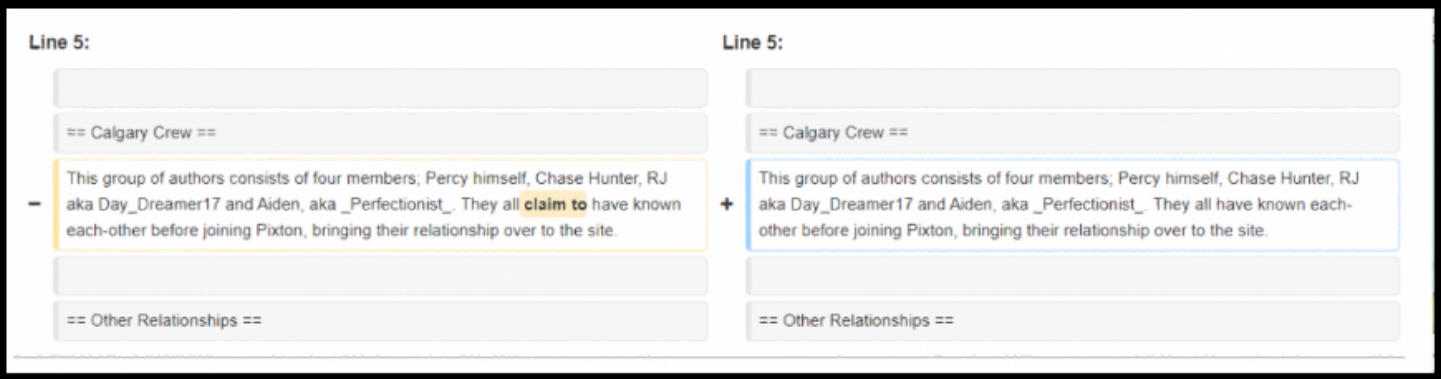
Over the course of a few months after the team comic, several people have been making alterations to articles about Chase, Elvination, and the Calgary Crew (the group Percy, Chase, _Perfectionist_, and Day_Dreamer17 are all part of).



Line 5:

This group of authors consists of four members; Percy himself, Chase Hunter, RJ aka Day_Dreamer17 and Aiden, aka _Perfectionist_. They all claim to have known each-other before joining Pixton, bringing their relationship over to the site.

The first edit was on the Calgary Crew (I'll call them CC from now on) where they changed a minor detail. They deleted the words 'claim to' but in doing so, the mysterious editor had revealed their IP. You see, when you edit an article on a Fandom website without making an account, it reveals your IP address... which in this case led to Al'Mutrah. Al'Mutrah is a five hour drive to Dubai. Dubai is a very popular location in Percy's comics. Now when I say this, I'm not doxxing the mysterious editor, because technically, they're the ones who revealed their IP on a public website. This is now public information which I should be free to use.

Anyway... the investigators and I have now nicknamed the mysterious editor as Mr. Dubai. Mr. Dubai is possibly Percy, just using a VPN to throw us off. But what I think is likelier is that Percy was actually in Al'Mutrah, didn't know his IP location would be revealed, and so he edited the article. What proves this in my opinion are the following edits trying to remove the Chase/Elvination drama from their articles by new users. One of these users shared their name with another Pixton user, but the user they shared their name with was inactive at the time so it's unlikely this was them.
